Question – We all understand the double burden of disease – communicable and non-communicable diseases in India. Health & Wellness Centers (HWCs) have often been said to be the cornerstone for the Government's Ambitious Ayushman Bharat Programme. So please explain from a policy perspective as well as implementation and how should the CSOs/NGOs be looking at delivery models/projects for engaging with HWCs to strengthen the primary healthcare system?

2. Dr. Chandrakant S. Pandav – Member, National Council for India Nutritional Challenges, POSHAN ABHIYAN; Former Professor & Head of the Department – Centre for Community Medicine at the AIIMS, New Delhi

Question – Going ahead and discussing on implementation strategies - Sir, COVID – 19 pandemic is around, and every country's health system is stretched and tested. So, keeping our priorities for improving healthcare delivery in rural India, how do we take up strengthening of infrastructure – what should be our priorities - sufficient and efficient Healthcare Workforce or technology access.

3. Ms. Rekha Masilamani Independent Consultant, Former Country Representative, Pathfinder International

Question – Resources are always limited. So, how can healthcare be integrated into programmatic theme areas that the CSOs and NGOs are already engaged in - such as Education, Livelihood and Skilling – and of course with minimal resources. What mechanisms do you think would work for achieving such integration successfully?

4. Mr. Anupam Biswal, Social Sector Specialist

Question – We all agree – 'Primary Healthcare is the key' – looking at the Continuum of care – from health promotion and disease prevention to treatment, rehab and may be even palliative care – and that they must be made available closer to people's environment - So... how can such clinics be designed? One – to ensure good quality of care; two – build sustainable and viable business models?

Total time 35 minutes (04:40 PM to 05:15 PM). If finished early – a couple of rapid-fire questions on the topic directed to specific person.

Q & A – based on time left. Close with a quick one-minute summarizing and thank you note.

If any changes – Rashi and panel members, please revert.

Look forward to meeting you all tomorrow!

Thank you

Best

Usha

Rashi – a gentle reminder – the pdf file has my name wrong – Usha Manjunath!

Date: 8th June (Tuesday)

Session Focus Points:

- COVID-19 as a Pandemic, has tested the health systems globally. What should be our immediate priorities with respect to addressing & improving healthcare delivery in rural India; Strengthening the infrastructure and access to technology or working towards Sufficient & efficient Health Workforce?

For Institute of Health Management Research, Bangalore

Usha Manjunath

- Health & Wellness Centers (HWCs) have been said to be a cornerstone for the Ambitious Ayushman Bharat Programme by Govt. What are the different Projects/Models that the CSOs should be looking at for engaging with HCWs to strengthen the primary healthcare ecosystem?
- What are some mechanisms that the CSOs and NGOs working on programmatic areas such Education, Livelihoods, Skilling develop such that healthcare is integrated to their programmes, with minimal resources?
- Public Health Risk Communication has proven to be crucial in the success of any Public Health initiative. What role can the CSOs play in addition & beyond the Government efforts, to ensure the delivery of right and adequate information? How can the CSOs catalyse the process of transformation from Information Education Communication (IEC) to Behaviour Change Communication (BCC)?
- What are some renewed commitments that organisations should be aiming at to build efficient and equitable rural health systems, such that when a new public health emergency threatens our villages, we are prepared with the 3As, Accessibility, Affordability and Availability for healthcare for the last mile citizen?
